SCHEDULE THREE

WARRANTY of PRODUCTS

The Company warrants all products purchased from the Company as being free from defects in material and workmanship for 12 months from the date of delivery to the Customer, provided such products are installed and/or operated in accordance with the Company's installation guidelines and relevant product specific user manual.

Precautionary Measures:

There are some precautionary measures that the Customer should take to ensure the longevity of electrical components supplied by the Company. These include:

- The use of computer protective jumper leads between the vehicle and the power source, when jump starting a vehicle; and
- The use of waterproof enclosures for units that are likely to be exposed to water/high moisture levels. Please request this enclosure at time of order.

Exceptions:

The Company's warranty does not cover improper installation, misuse, abuse or neglect on the part of the Customer/Customer's users including but not limited to:

- The unit is damaged by any act, omission or misuse;
- Antenna/aerial is damaged following successful install QA sign-off by customer;
- Power has been removed from the unit;
- The product is removed, taken apart, tampered with, altered or serviced by anyone other than a Company authorised installer;
- Following vehicle maintenance/servicing, the GPS tracking unit is found to be interrupted.
- A power surge has been generated as a result of a vehicle jump start or other equipment (e.g. welding on vehicle when the battery in the vehicle is not disconnected/reconnected).

The Company strongly recommends the Customer checks its vehicles after general vehicle maintenance is undertaken or the battery is charged or disconnected, to ensure GPS tracking has resumed.

Returns Management Process:

- Faulty units must be returned to the Company or its nominated agent at the Company's request, after removal by a Company authorised installer.
- Any costs for return will be at the Customer's expense via a reputable courier with proof of delivery.
- Before return, a Returned Materials Authorisation (RMA) reference number should be obtained from the Company and enclosed with the return. Should the failure be due to a component fault then the faulty component will be replaced and hardware item sent back to the Customer at the Company's expense. The failed component will not be returned to the Customer.

- Within this warranty the Company will repair or replace at its option defective parts at no charge, provided the product is returned freight paid. If this warranty clause is activated freight will be refunded.
- The Company's warranty is on a "return to base" model.
- If the Customer believes there is a fault with the unit (e.g. arising from installation), the Company will need to establish proof of cause and be given the opportunity to assess the vehicle before any repairs have been affected or costs incurred. If this does not happen, the Company will not be liable for any repairs undertaken.
